

I was saddened and disappointed with the reaction that ABC Networks were forced to take by not showing Steven Spielberg's "Saving Private Ryan". Even after requesting a waiver, of which you could have approved or denied at your choice, your department decided not to make a ruling or decision. As I understand it, your department took no position. This just makes me more frustrated with the politics of the federal government. Keep avoiding the issue and maybe it will go away. Yeah.